Key Learning this term...

We are delighted to welcome Miss Wilson to our class this half term. She will be working with me to teach the class over the next couple of months. Miss Wilson has already made a great start and I am sure the children will benefit greatly from her time with us.

Our school's value for this half term is "Service" Through various activities and discussions, we will be emphasizing the significance of serving others. Children are encouraged to reflect on the concept of service in their daily lives, fostering a sense of responsibility and empathy towards others. We believe that instilling the value of service in our children contributes to creating a compassionate and inclusive school community.

There will be a change in our weekly timetable. As class four have a visitor delivering their PE lessons, we are swapping days for our PE. So from next week, our PE will be on Tuesday afternoon, not Thursday.

A brief overview of our learning. In English we are looking at Beowulf, Mathematics continues with times tables. Science is all about states of matter, History is the Vikings, Geography is about Europe, in Art we are using light and dark, Computing will be learning to code with turtle. French will be about the calendar, PSHE will be managing emotions and in our RE lessons we will be finding out what festivals can teach us about Islam.

Music will see the conclusion of our Steel Pan work with a concert to which everyone is invited. Friday 10th January, 10am.

As always, if you have any questions, please feel free to contact school or have a quick word when we dismiss the class at the end of the day.
