Key Learning this term...

In our English classes, children are going to be looking at the enchanting world of "Varmints." This thought-provoking book, written by Helen Ward and illustrated by Marc Craste, takes readers on a journey that explores the consequences of progress and the importance of preserving the environment. Through engaging discussions and creative writing exercises, children will delve into the themes of the story, developing their comprehension and communication skills.

Our school's value for this half term is "Justice." Through various activities and discussions, we will be emphasizing the significance of fairness and equality. Children are encouraged to reflect on the concept of justice in their daily lives, fostering a sense of responsibility and empathy towards others. We believe that instilling the value of justice in our children contributes to creating a compassionate and inclusive school community.

Science will look at Forces and Magnets, Geography will be European landmarks and Maths will have a focus on fractions.

World Book Day: Get ready for a day full of literary fun and excitement! We encourage all children to participate in the celebrations, whether it's dressing up as their favourite book character or engaging in book-related activities and there are plenty of characters who do not need special costumes to dress up as. We do need to be mindful that we are swimming on the same day!

Thank you for your continued support in ensuring that our children receive a well-rounded education that not only focuses on academic excellence but also emphasizes values that contribute to their personal and social development.
